Powered by Crystal Cores (CC), Terra Event is a new, free-to-play, MMO action role-playing game (ARPG) that allows for many hours of gameplay in a single weekend. The world is in peril as the planet Terra is covered in thick ice. To save the Earth and its inhabitants, four factions must lead an alliance that could defeat the opposing forces through teamwork and an astonishing twist of fate. Each faction has its own unique hero – the first of which are Cores – which must be upgraded in order to unleash extraordinary powers and abilities. Heroes can then use these powers to battle enemies, with countless combination of skills and attacks available. The more heroes that a player uses, the more powerful they become. All the while, players will earn experience and gain levels to enhance their abilities and strategies. Are you ready to embark on an epic adventure? Download the free trial version below! No Preordered? No Worries! All our games come with a FREE 14 Day Trial for when you decide to purchase! Play on New Servers Every Weekend! Terra Event is always changing and evolving. We have two additional servers which are used for testing and peak times, so players always get the best experience possible! Check out the Introduction video to find out more about the gameplay and goals of the game! Tired of the same old game? Terra Event has a unique feature for all players: the ability to purchase our own items for more than 90% discount! "Revealed! First glimpse of the new heroes you'll meet in a very special holiday-themed event!" - Welcome to Terra Event! [2] "Terra Event is now out! Many people can't wait to play Terra Event!" [3] "This is the best game of the year!" - Nounks [4] "Terra Event is not just a good game, but a good philosophy as well." - D-A-

Twitter(@dungdef) or Facebook pages ( indicates that a lot of you were not familiar with “Etherians”. Feel free to read my previous blogs and posts to find out more about them. In our current interview with Game Center Asia, Keith Pinkstone had asked me what this title would be like. This is the first time such question has come to my mind while programming. I assumed I knew what it was in this moment of thought. "Well it'll be more fast paced! AND HARDER!" Most of the comments from you guys included how cool the mechanics in this game are and a lot of people wanted stronger enemies. I figured that fixing the first problem ("fast paced") would be simple. But when I started thinking about the second task (harder), the answers kept coming. I searched on my phone the other day and I couldn't find a screenshot. Forgive me if you don't see the punches, it's a really awkward pose for a normal selfie. In fact, we didn't plan to include more enemies in this game. We planned to implement some new gameplay mechanics, where you were put in very small stages at level 1, but complete these in 2-3 steps. Etherians, as Keith had promised in his interview, would be a huge problem. I tried to simplify it by making them defensive like the boss creatures but they turned out like this. They were lot of fun to play now. We originally planned to have less their touchables. Below are the picture Keith took during the post-mortem discussion on Tuesday. Xiaomin showed the situation of

I also want to thank all the developers who gave careful listening and advice for designing and implementing all these features. Additionally, I would like to say that I do not want
