Hello guys I've been working on a small intranet application in asp.net3.5 and C# with a data grid view and an upload field. so far i've been able to get the contents of the field to populate the datagridview. the problem I've had is that I want to update the grid view with the new file contents without having to refresh the browser, I've made some attempts with ajax, but when i try the following(forms details aspx), I keep getting a 500 error from the server and all the records in the table gets cleared out and the grid view turns to the first row. but If i refresh the browser the new records shows up. so i figure that there is a problem with the aspx file or the js code. I've had a look at 0cc13bf012

Windows 10 gets an update to start checking for applications that have been pinned to the task bar, allowing for security updates to be downloaded and installed. This recent act should have to get a new number. This was a safe place and data storage. Microsoft on Monday delivered a monthly update for Windows 10 that will help secure the operating system against cyberattacks. The US-based company also provided details about an overall security improvement patch for December. The Microsoft Security Bulletin MS17-100, for which the company will deliver two security bulletins, contains the details of the last security improvement and cumulative updates for all currently supported versions of Windows. The Microsoft Security Bulletin MS17-100 provides comprehensive fixes for the previously disclosed security vulnerabilities in Internet Explorer, Edge, EdgeHTML, Chrome and Edge. The monthly security update is made available with the latest cumulative update KB 4157658 and the security bulletin MS17-100. Microsoft patches critical flaw in IE, Edge, EdgeHTML browsers Microsoft releases monthly updates for Windows 10 The update fixes a critical vulnerability in Microsoft Internet Explorer, Edge and EdgeHTML browsers, as well as EdgeHTML, which is the rendering engine that powers Microsoft Edge. The monthly security bulletin MS17-100 also addresses a critical vulnerability in Internet Explorer, Edge and EdgeHTML, as well as the EdgeHTML rendering engine. Both Internet Explorer 11 and Edge 15 are also affected by the security vulnerability. The monthly security bulletin also addresses a critical vulnerability in the Windows kernel that could allow attackers to take complete control of affected systems. All Microsoft Windows users are urged to download and install Microsoft's monthly updates. Second monthly security update for Microsoft edge The security update addresses a high severity vulnerability in the Edge HTML rendering engine and a moderate severity vulnerability in Internet Explorer 11 that could be exploited by a specially crafted webpage to execute arbitrary code in the browser process. A list of all known zero-day vulnerabilities and zero-day exploits in Internet Explorer, Edge, EdgeHTML, EdgeHTML are also provided in the bulletin. Risks and fixes associated with the flaws are explained as "critical," "important," "important-update," and "remote code-execution." The EdgeHTML vulnerability, detected as CVE-2017-5786, is included in a special category of "remote code-execution" vulnerabilities
