ELDEN RING is a trademark of NDA.Platform Platform Europe – The Beginning In the beginning there was an adventurer called Ralph D. Paskvan. In 2016 he invented the world’s first metering system for traveling passengers. Paskvan came up with the idea to build a world-first when he made his first trip to the city of Heerlen and realized, quite simply, that no company or organization would accept paying passengers without a ticket. As he was driving through the city he was met with more than a few concerned looks. What he did next was envision a way to use technology to solve one of the biggest problems related to the modern era: mobility. It all started with a simple question: Could we build a way for travelers to ensure their safety without risk? Paskvan decided the answer was yes. It was him and a few of his friends who set out on their bold journey – their own “Nightingale’s Path”. In 2017 Paskvan and his team started developing a platform that would provide people with a safe way to make money while riding in taxis, shared mobility and traditional taxis, especially for the estimated million people who travel in city centers at night time. Their goal is to allow people to have an easier time getting where they want to go. By using a blockchain-based system they would make the payments more transparent, by having all transactions send via the Ethereum network, they would enable the platform to operate easily from anywhere in the world, and by using smart contracts they would ensure the safety of the passengers, taxi drivers and other riders. The choice of Ethereum led to the development of the SafeTrip platform. This new project is Ethereum’s way of building an open-source platform that can act as the backbone of the decentralized future. It is a community project that will receive participation from different sectors and be able to integrate anything from financial services, IoT devices, artificial intelligence, to transportation, transportation services and other possible industries. Paskvan has a vision and mission – to make taxi rides as safe as possible for passengers. SafeTrip While SafeTrip keeps the Ethereum network at the center, SafeTrip will also be the first Ethereum application

What's new in Elden Ring:

A legend tells the story of an age when the races of man built empires... In those days, the old gods of the forgotten kingdoms ruled the people and the land of Almeron, and a new and terrible force was gathering strength on the horizon. The empire was torn and the land was parched, the people hungry and cold. The people prayed to their gods for help, but none came. Of one thing they were sure, the strength of the new enemy was awesome and terrible indeed; in the end, there would be no escape from the dark madness that swept across Almeron. The kingdom fell. New gods. New heroes. A new Legend begins... Discuss this update on our forum. Never miss an update! Immunoperoxidase techniques were used to detect Brucella antigens in fresh frozen tissues and blood in different biotopes of live birds of diverse genus and species. It was shown that the bacteria had high antigen-producing activity which caused high specific titers of sera. The organism had the ability to cause changes in the humoral immunity to the effect that agglutination tests were positive but ELISA techniques were negative for a given individual. Statistically high agglutination and ELISA titers were obtained by the Brucella-positive birds. These tests enabled the detection of the agent on the foci with varying antigens levels and in different biotopes of the host. A comparison of the nasal vestibule and adenoid with regard to their role in otitis media with effusion. The role of the adenoid and nasal vestibule in the development of otitis media with effusion (OME) was studied in 82 children undergoing adenoidectomy. The following measurements were taken on the day of surgery: 1. The adenoidal height; 2. The area; 3. The height of the nasopharyngeal walls; 4. The width of the inferior meatus and adenoid space; 5. The thickness of the ventral and dorsal mucosa covering the adenoids. It was found that a large adenoidal area increases the size of the adenoid and that a large adenoid surface increases the vestibular surface area which reduces the resistance to the production of mucus in the nasopharynx

PARIS (Reuters) - French President Emmanuel Macron said on Wednesday Iran should leave Syria's five-year-old war and allow in humanitarian aid, as a government is formed in rebel-held Damascus. "When a government is in place in Syria, I will go to Tehran," Macron told reporters after talks with Turkish President Tayyip Erdogan. "Iran has to be a part of the solution, not the problem" in the Middle East. Macron said it was up to regional powers to help resolve the Syrian civil war and that Turkey and France had agreed on a timeline to create a Syrian government. The meeting at the Elysee Palace in Paris was the first between Macron and Erdogan since a failed coup in Turkey on July 15. Macron said he would tell Iranian President Hassan Rouhani about Iran's role in the Syrian conflict and on the conflicts in Lebanon, Iraq and Yemen, as well as the Palestinian question. Macron said Iran should not use Syria as a base for countering the United States. "They can't offer a solution to this region without confronting the United States," Macron said.

ic acid (citric acid), and sodium citrate (also known as sodium pyruvate). It is used in physical exercise drinks such as Gatorade or Simply Orange to increase the rate at which they are absorbed into the body. However, even though the effect is modest in comparison to other substances like sodium bicarbonate, it may be useful in those without kidney function problems. In the United States, citric acid is used as a food additive for its preservative properties. The natural preservative system it creates in the fermented food produces a longer shelf life than most of its preservatives, while it is an antioxidant and antimicrobial agent that limits the growth of many bacteria and fungi. Citric acid is also used in some low-calorie sweeteners.
