I am not teaching Autocad. Autocad is full of illegal programs and activation key generators that you can purchase and activate your license within the software. Even if your Activation Code is found on this website it might not work. I will try to help you by telling you how to activate Autocad. From your question the following can be deduced: You bought AutoCAD You bought it from a website You want to activate your license The first thing is to get a copy of Autocad. You can always download a trial version from Autodesk which will be activated when you close it. If the Trial version can not be activated, stop using it and get a real copy of Autocad. Please note that this is not Autocad, it is Autodesk's trial version that you should stop using and get a real license of Autocad. So get Autocad. I am not going to provide you with a trial version. If you want to know how to activate it then please read this Guide and then tell us if it worked for you. Thanks to @Daleka I found this answer by clicking on the two linked images. I do not own Autocad and I am not an expert on it. I want to activate it from the site, have i any crack for it? According to the image provided by the site you have a trial version of Autocad. That means you have to activate it. You can activate it by doing the following: Open your browser Locate the location where you have Autocad Open the folder by clicking on it or copy and paste it into your desktop (I do not know if the double clicking will work in the trial version) Right click on Autocad
